

The internet is a telecom service and needs to be regulated by the FCC if it is not regulated it could be prohibitively expensive to run a website